CRIME IN THE METROPOLIS.

Murders, Homicides and Suicides During the Past Year.

We are happy to state that the criminal statistics of the t year present a gratifying and remarkable decrease in the number of murders and homicides. The figures show a decrease of over fifty per cent in cases of murd τ , and sixty per cent in those of homicide. In the number of suicides there is but slight difference from the total of the provious year, there being a decrease of only one case. Through the politeness of Mr. John G. Parise, the gentlemanly clerk of the Coroners' office, we are enabled to lay before our readers the following interesting statement, chronologically arranged, of all the murders, homicides and suicides which have taken place in this city

ALBANY FIREMEN IN NEW YORK .- The D. D. Tompkins Engine Company No. 8, of Albany, arrived in our city on Wednesday evening, to take home their new engine, which has just been completed in one of our up town manufachas just been completed in one of our up town manufactories. The Albanians muster over seventy men, all of whom were dressed in drab overcoats, red shirts, white belts and black cravats, and are a hardy, respectable looking body of young men. They were received and on tertained by the Chatham Engine Jompany No. 15, of this city, and put up at Tammany Hall. Yesterday it was proposed to take the Albanians to the institutions on Blackwell's Island, but the day proving unpleasant, at the request of the Ten Governors the visit was postponed until to-day, when the two companies will start for the islands at nine o'clock A. M. Yesterday the Albany fremen had nothing to do but visit the lious of the city in parties of two and three, which they did. In the evening a supper was given them by their hosts of Engine Company No. 15, at No. 206 Eighth avenue, when speeches were made by J. R. Platt, ex Foreman of Engine Company No. 25; Hale Kingsley, of Engine Company No. 8, of Albany; Joseph Millwood, ex-Foreman of 16 Engine; David S. Baker, the present Foreman; John Brice, Assistant Engineer of the New York Fire Department, and others. The Albanius finished up the evening by attending the ball of the Guardian Engine Company No. 20. They return home this evening by the 4½ o'clock train.

LIBERALITY OF THE UNION FERRY COMPANY.—It is said that the Union Ferry Company, in view of the great dan-ger to life and limb—which, in the present slippery conger to life and limb—which, in the present slippery condition of the bridges, ladies and aged persons have to incur in going on and off the ferry beats—have been liberal enough to order a sufficient supply of cocoanut matting to cover the approaches to the boats. It is also said that with the same unusual degree of liberality the decks and cabins of the ferry boats are to be carpeted with the like material, so that ladies will no longer have to run the bazard of catching cold by sitting in nesty cabins, filther than pigsties. Is there any truth in the statement?

ACCINEMATER BROADWAY—A MAN RUN OVER BY A CARL.—

Tunesday morning about eleven o'clock a man named John Warren, of No. 54 Rossevelt street, while crossing Broadway, at the corner of Chambers street, was knocked down and run over by a camphene cart, and so badly injured that he may die from the effects of the accident. The wheel of the wagon passed over the prostrate man, striking him in the region of the loins, and though no bones were at the time ascertained to be broken, he was evidently very severely burt internally. He was taken into the drug store of Messrs. Hegeman & Co., near at hand, where such temporary rolief as could be offered was premptly administered. The injured man was sent home, under the care of a policeman. Officer Wallace, of the Fifth precinct police, who was present and witnessed the occurrence, arrested the driver of the camphene cart, Patrick Kelly, and lodged him in the Fifth ward station house; but upon a representation of the facts of the case before Justice Connolly, no evidence of negligent or malicious driving being adduced, Kelly was discharged.

His conjugal partner, who survives him, is several years younger. They have tived together as husband and wife for nearly seventy years. Although Mr. Wortendyke, being young at the time of the Revolutionary War, took no part in the protracted struggle between England and her revolted colonies, yet his memory retained till lately the full impression of many incidents relative to those soul trying times, which he was fond of relating. Among his grandchildren is the Hon. J. R. Wortendyke, of the Fifth Congressmal district of New Jersey.

The Memphis Engle of the 24th inst. says:—

Many of our readers will be deeply grieved to read the announcement of the death of Mr. Davis T. Ass, the popular proprietor of the old Memphis theatre. He died about five o'clock yesterday afternoon, from the effects of the pistol shot received by him on Tuesday last. Mr. Ash was one of our oldest citizens, esteemed by all who knew him. He was the pioneer of the drama in this city, and his name is intimately associated with the theatrical history of Memphis.

DRAFF BY VIOLENCE—A CASE FOR THE CORONNE. —On Christmas day some difficulty occurred between two men, one of them a person name! Hastings—who worked at the liquor store of Christopher Fox, at the corner of Imlay and Commerce streets—in the course of which it is said that Hastings was either struck or tripped, or both, and thrown headlong down into a cellar, fracturing his skull. He was conveyed to Fox's, where he died, after remaining insensible for two or three days, and was buried on Wedboundary, without any investigation having been held as to the manner of his death, as far as we have been able to learn. This is a case for the Coroner, which should be looked after.

young man named William Sherman, aged about twentyone years, in company with two half sisters, aged twelve and fourteen, left the residence of his step father, Mr. Curtis Havens, at Herbertsville, Ocean county, N. They had not returned on Monday morning, but supposing they were at his daughter's, Mr. Havens gave himself a they were at his daughter's, Mr. Havens gave himself no encusiness, and loft home to attend to some business at Squankum. Arriving there he met his son in-law, of whom he inquired the reason why they remained so long at his house. He replied that they had not been there, and that he had neither seen or heard anything of them. Becoming alarmed, Mr. H. at once hastened home, and in company with some neighbors proceeded to the river at a point known as Red Bank landing, where they commenced search. The bodies of the unfortunate young man and children were found on Tuesday morning but a few feet from the shore. They had borrowed a boat to cross the river, which is supposed to have filled and sunk almost as soon as they got in, as it was afterward ascertained that the boat was not capable of carrying over two persons. The young man was a good swimmer, and no doubt lost his life in trying to save his sisters.

well known in this city, as well as in many Southern States, will be read by all with interest.

47 Wall. Straker, New York, Dec. 20, 1859.

Gentlemen—Your note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you have heard that I have been benefitted by the use of Wood's hair restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it. I award it to you observed the color of my hair abours, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the color of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff is form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a foreth was added to them by my hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me yald. In this unpleasant predicament I was induced to try Wood's hair restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could well be restored to its grignal color, except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find, after the use of two boilled only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs, and seast-tilly to the scalp, and dandruff censed to form on my head, very much to the gratification if was induced to try it. For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admirtation of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting total.
